[EXCERPTS FROM GALLERY OWNERS]

 Miae Cho, born and grew up in Seoul, Korea. She studied vocal music and received a Master's degree in music.
She launched a career as a classical soprano, performing throughout Korea, Canada, and USA, with numerous media appearances and release of CD's in Korea and the U.S. On one U.S. tour, she was the solo artist for a standing-room-only performance at Carnegie Hall in 1993.
But then Miae's already-amazing journey took an even more amazing turn. After settling in Boston, she happened to meet artist Barbara Donnelly. She inspired her to take private lesson in watercolor.
Soon Miae realized that she had never been "free" as an opera singer.
"I found that my true passion was painting." she says. "It was freedom that was missing from my life-freedom from all the restrictions that I had experienced in the past to be a perfect condition...
"The show must go on" ... I wanted to be free from all of that. Free from my performances, my schedule, and everybody else's rules. I wanted to make my own rules, my own creations."
She began painting realistically, but shifted after a time. "I found that painting in an abstract transform nature into expressive abstractions." She beams.
"So today, I work joyfully," she says, "in a world where there are no rules, no limitations, so plans."
